Natural Solutions for Cold Sores

Cold sores (fever blisters or Herpes simplex labialis) are an unsightly annoyance that plagues up to 10% of people more than five times per year. These tiny, fluid-filled blisters occur on and around your lips forming a scab when the blisters break. They usually resolve on their own without any treatment after two to three... Read...

Testimonials

Dr. Damian Rodriguez, DHSc

"My colleagues and I had been using Scott's texts as one of our primary references for years...After a few collaborations, it is clear that he is not only one of the most knowledgeable individuals in the essential oil industry but one of the hardest working. Scott is one of those people that makes you realize you can do more."

Dr. William Lawler, DC

"Dr. Scott Johnson is personable, concerned about others and dialed into natural health. I have read his book on nutrition and highly recommend it. Good nutrition is a major key to health and Dr. Johnson's book is an excellent guide to that end."

Jon Raynes

"Dr. Scott Johnson is one of the most talented natural health and wellness experts that I've ever had the pleasure to work with! His depth of understanding and expertise is balanced by his ability to make complex things simple and easy for the layman to understand. I cannot recommend Dr. Scott Johnson enough!"
